

Welcome to Madrid

Considered to be one of the capital's best business hotels, the InterContinental Madrid offers all of the exclusive services that a luxury hotel can offer to those visiting Madrid on business, although its location, close to leading museums, the centre or the Santiago Bernabéu Stadium, makes it a good choice for those coming to enjoy Madrid's culture and leisure.

The building was constructed in the middle of the last century on the site of an 18th century mansion halfway along the Paseo de la Castellana and has always been inspired by Madrid's exquisite artistic tradition. It has 320 rooms and suites with maximum functionality and an elegant style. Its many services include a wellness centre, gym, business centre, as well as many advantages for families, with spaces and special activities for children.

Gastronomy is another of the hotel's attractions. For more informal dining, the InterContinental boasts Bar 49, specialised in cocktails and light snacks. And for those who prefer to dine á la carte, El Jardín del InterContinental, with its chef, Miguel de la Fuente, serves the finest international cuisine that can also be savoured on the hotel terrace, which is open in summer. It also serves a spectacular 'brunch' on Sundays.

It has adapted to the new technologies and specialised in business travellers, incorporating the latest technology in its management and customer service systems. Thanks to this, it has been awarded "Best Business Hotel in Spain", for three consecutive years by the World Travel Awards.
