

Welcome to Madrid

This establishment at the junction of Calle Bailén and Plaza de España, close to Sabatini Gardens, is the flamenco house with the largest flamenco stage in Madrid, which boasts a modern design for the comfort of the artists and the audience. The flamenco house has also been a pioneer in the use of theatre technical resources for its shows, whilst constantly maintaining the freshness and spontaneity of this genre.

Founded in December 2003 by the flamenco dancers, Antonia Moya and Marisol Navarro, the flamenco house opts for flamenco that is representative, carefully detailed, high quality with leading figures from the flamenco scene.

Las Tablas also serves a simple culinary offer with premium products, which will enable the audience to enjoy our country's culinary joys, without losing sight of the show.

The venue also offers flamenco classes for groups and organises exhibitions with flamenco as the main theme.
