

Welcome to Madrid

The American pop singer is coming to the IFEMA Municipal Palace on 17 July as part of her I'm Outta Lockdown – The 23rd Anniversary European tour. Having sold more than 20 million albums worldwide, Anastacia is considered to be one of the great international pop divas.

Anastacia embarked on her music career in early 2000, releasing her first album, Not That Kind (2000), and becoming one of the leading singers of the decade. This first album included the single, I'm Outta Love, one of the best-selling songs that year.

Throughout her musical career, she has received many professional awards that have consolidated her music with gold and platinum discs in countries like the United Kingdom, Germany, France, Switzerland or the Netherlands. Her greatest hits include songs like I'm Outta Love, Paid My Dues, One Day In Your Life, Left Outside Alone, Sick and Tired or I Belong to You with Eros Ramazzotti.

Now, Anastacia is back on European stages with I'm Outta Lockdown - The 23rd Anniversary, her first tour since 2018 when she promoted her seventh studio album, Evolution (2017). It is a new tour in which the artist celebrates the 23rd anniversary of her career in which there will be no lack of her greatest hits.
