

Welcome to Madrid

The guardian of German language and culture in Madrid is the Goethe Institut, where German courses are given, conferences are held and exhibitions are organised to serve as a bridge between Germany and Spain.

The Goethe Institut was created in 1951 and arrived in Madrid in 1957. Over 50 years later, its impact on culture in Spain and all over Europe, as a centre for dissemination of German culture, was acknowledged with the Príncipe de Asturias Award for Communication and Humanities in 2005.

The Goethe Institut has a library, film library, conference room and exhibition room. Its programme covers a wide range of subjects on fields such as literature, philosophy, film, art, architecture, design, music, dance and theatre.

Services

Image

Catering area

Image

Library

Image

Lift

Practical Information

Address

Calle
de Zurbarán, 21
28010

Telephone

(+34) 91 391 39 44

Website

<http://www.goethe.de/madrid>

Metro

Rubén Darío (L5)
Alonso Martínez (L4, L5, L10)

Cercanías (local train)

Price

Type

Cultural venues
Cultural centres, exhibition halls, foundations

Tourist area

Chamberí

Fax

(+34) 91 391 39 45

Email

info-madrid@goethe.de

Bus

5, 7, 14, 27, 45, 150, N1, N22, N24, N25,
N26

BiciMAD bike-share scheme

Alquiler de bicis (BiciMAD)

Docking stations:

- Plaza de Alonso Martínez, 8
- Calle José Ortega y Gasset, 4
- Paseo de la Castellana, 4

Times

Customer service hours:

Mon - Fri: 9am- 9pm

Cafeteria Berlin:

Mon - Fri: 8am - 8pm

Official Tourism Website

