

Welcome to Madrid

This great edifice, built in the Neo-Herrerian style, was designed by architect Luis Gutiérrez Soto. It stands in the district of Moncloa, on the site previously occupied by the Model de Madrid prison, and it bears a striking resemblance to the Monastery of El Escorial.

This impressive six-storey construction, with exposed brickwork and slate roof, has four towers each topped with a spire, and honour portico made up of four granite half columns. Inside it has three large courtyards: the central or 'honour' courtyard, onto which the windows of the building's noble rooms face, and a further two that act as squares.

Practical Information

Address

Calle
de la Princesa, 87
28008

Tourist area

Princesa

Telephone

Fax

Website

Email

Metro

Moncloa (L3, L6)
Argüelles (L3, L4, L6)

Bus

001, 1, 16, 44, 46, 61, 62, 82, 83, 132, 133,
138, 160, 161, 162, C1, C2, G, N21, N28

Cercanías (local train)

BiciMAD bike-share scheme

Alquiler de bicis (BiciMAD)

Docking stations:

- Moncloa (Paseo de Moret, 2)
- Aripreste de Hita A y B (calle Arcipreste de Hita, 12)

Price

Times

Type

Sights and monuments

Official Tourism Website