

Welcome to Madrid

From its special architectural style to the carefully selected firms inside the building, you will quickly notice that this shopping centre is different to any other. It occupies the old headquarters building of the newspaper ABC, built in the late 19th century in a neo-Mudéjar style. Its location, right in the centre of the aristocratic District of Salamanca, is another advantage.

Inside the building, you will find more than 80 shops of all kinds, although accessories and fashion are the strong point. If you feel hungry, you can also find an excellent selection of luxury restaurants and cafés. For warm summer nights, the ABC has a terrace, well-known among customers due to the great panoramic views of the city.

Its establishments also include The Robot Museum, where you can find out about the past, present and future of robotics, playing and interacting with robots; and Sweet Space, an original interactive museum with sweet goods as the main feature.
